EMBEZZLED LODGE FUNDS.

Michael Sterbenz is a prisoner in the Winona county jail on a charge of embezzling the sum of $564.78 from the Freundschaft Lodge 98 of the United Workmen, and owing to carelessness of the lodge officials in accepting from Sterbenz a defective bond at the time he was last re-elected receiver of the lodge. The probability is that his bondsmen cannot be held for the amount, but that the loss will fall upon the lodge if it cannot be collected from Sterbenz, the payment of which he has declared himself unable to meet.

Judge John J. Brindley and wife arrived home early this morning from their western trip and spent the day resting after their long trip from Los Angeles.

MAY RE-BUILD SCHOOL

La Crescentites Would Spend $1,500 to Get Shack Restored

Realizing they must take some steps soon to provide a place for their children to go to school, citizens of La Crescent who assisted in partially demolishing the old school before a restraining order stopped the work, have applied to Attorneys Raymond & Raymond of this city to agree to stipulations allowing restoration of the old building.

This peculiar outcome of the litigation which has torn the village of La Crescent asunder is the result of Judge Kingsley's decision upholding the restraining order and granting an injunction to stop all work of destruction on the old school.

Not a particle of work has been done on the new school for a number of days and citizens are now beginning to worry over the situation, the prospects of there being no school in the village fit for habitation when the fall term opens being exceedingly bright, unless something is done at once.

POWELL'S STORY OF WHY HE IS SUING PHILIPPI

City Engineer Says Directory Man Was in the Habit of Leering at Him When They Met on the Street

To those who have read what has already been published regarding the sensational Powell-Philippi suit, the original story of which appeared exclusively in the Tribune last Saturday evening, some of the facts lying behind the affair may be of interest.

Powell, the plaintiff, tells a peculiar story of one of the reasons why he started the action against the directory man. He asserts that following his discovery of his wife in Philippi's rooms, the latter has leered at him with a defiant smile whenever they met, either on the street or elsewhere. He declares that Philippi's attitude has constantly been one of defiant contempt, as much as to say, "Well, you whelp, what are you going to do about it?"

Further than this, Powell alleges, Philippi has constantly circulated stories among his friends of both sexes blaming Powell with things Powell claims are untrue. He says the falsehoods circulated by Philippi were calculated not only to clear Philippi of all blame and to make him appear as an abused angel, but were calculated also to blacken the character of himself (Powell) and to shift the entire responsibility for his wife's actions and suicide upon himself.

Powell says that he guarded his wife's good name and said nothing about the affair, hence the only version which was gaining publicity was that noised about by Philippi. He declares this version became popular with the women who readily condemned him and went out of their way to spread the stories.

Powell says these stories became so malicious that gossips even began to hint that Mrs. Powell did not suicide and that her husband should be arrested. All of this time, Powell declares, Philippi wore a sarcastic and defiant grin in his presence over his successful method of clearing himself and blackening the plaintiff.

Would Show Him Up.

"I want people to know what the real facts in this case are," says Powell, "and I propose that Philippi's doings shall be aired in detail. I have been blackened and maligned by this man and his friends until practically the entire town is already blaming me because of Philippi's stories. But now I propose to show the world the baseness of Philippi and I will unmask him in court. I do not care of myself—I simply want justice done him and when he gets it the public will have a different opinion of 'King' Philippi."

"No one regrets more than I that this thing had to end this way. I have tried for years to cover it up and to say nothing for my wife's sake, but a man can stand only so much—and I have already submitted to what would have caused other men to commit rash crimes."

"Philippi comes out in a statement craftily prepared to gain public sympathy, and endogizes Mrs. Powell's character. He probably thinks it is natural for the public to sympathize with a gallant fellow who thus shields the name of a woman. I ask, why did he not shield her when she was my wife. Why did he not then protect her fair name and honor instead of entertaining her at roadhouses and in his private apartments?"

"In his 'public-sympathy' statement he accuses me of pounding my wife. This is a lie. I never touched her, except to assist her mother in choking the poison from her when she attempted to suicide the day before she succeeded. Philippi's answers during his examination before Harrison last Saturday morning tell a different story. He made no manly effort then to protect the name of Mrs. Powell, or of other women whose names were brought out. His attempt to slink from the searchlight by an effort to try to turn public attention onto me is silly and will be proven so before the case is ended."

"As to myself, I can simply say that no man was a more perfect husband than I, previous to two years ago, and had this self-confessed debauchee of a happy home kept away from her, she might have been saved, and my live not made miserable."

Philippi's Answer.

L. P. Philippi, answering the complaint of Powell, denies all the allegations set forth in the complaint and charges Powell with the responsibility of his wife's suicide, because of alleged iniquitous association of Powell with notorious women.

The answer, filed with the court follows:

"For his answer herein defendant says:

"1. That he admits the marriage of the plaintiff as set forth in the complaint.

"2. That he denies each and every other allegation of said complaint.

"3. Further answering, defendant says: That, if the plaintiff was deprived of any comfort, society, aid and assistance of the said wife, it was by no enticing, debauching or other acts of this defendant, but by and on account of plaintiff's cruel and inhuman neglect and illtreatment and abuse of said wife. That for some years previous to the death by suicide of said Mabel, and while they were husband and wife, the plaintiff lived in open cohabitation with a notorious prostitute in the city of La Crosse, commonly known as Della Fox, having adulterous intercourse with her and squandering his money on her to the neglect of his own wife.

Alleges Powell Struck Wife.

"That said wife knew all these facts, knew that all such facts were commonly known to their friends in the city of La Crosse, and that such knowledge and conduct alienated the affections of said wife, if alienated at all, and caused said Mabel to become demented and commit suicide. That on the nights April 24 and 25, 1905, the said plaintiff struck and pounded the said Mabel about the face and the body and otherwise illtreated and abused her so that she became and was out of her mind, frantic and hysterical, and that because of said illtreatment at his time and because of said debauched life of plaintiff and said neglect, the said Mabel attempted to kill herself. That the cruel and inhuman treatment continued to April 26, 1905, and, as defendant is informed and believes, said consorting with Della Fox so continued until the morning of said April 26, and that on said morning said Mabel committed suicide, solely on account of the inhuman and debauched conduct of plaintiff.

"Wherefore defendant asks that this action be dismissed with costs."

Seek to Show Mistreatment.

It is stated that Attorney Frank Winter, representing Philippi claims to have witnesses who will swear that Powell beat his wife upon two separate occasions between the time Mrs. Powell and Philippi were found together in the latter's rooms, and the time of the suicide. It will probably be the effort of the defense to show that no matter what connection Philippi had with the wife of Powell, that Powell himself was responsible for the suicide.

In a statement prepared for publication the defendant insists that Mrs. Powell was a pure woman and harshly criticises Powell for dragging her name through the mire after she is dead. While this has not been brought out in the evidence and when, in fact, the evidence of Philippi tends to show that Mrs. Powell was not a pure woman, it is presumed that the statement was prepared for its effect upon public opinion in the case.

It is expected that each side will make an effort to gain public sympathy in the suit.

GERMANY DEMANDS CONDITION OF OUR RECIPROCITY TREATY

ONE IS TO SHUT OUT JOHN BULL FROM SIMILAR ADVANTAGES

Other Would Abolish Preferential System in Cuba

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—Too much dependence should not be placed on the reports which have recently gone out from this city regarding the probability of an early and satisfactory agreement between the United States and Germany on the question of reciprocity. It is true that the question will come up very early in the next session of congress, which will probably open about the middle of November, but all talk as to what will be done should be punctuated with interrogation marks. The difficulties in the way of a reciprocal agreement with Germany are very great. The German ambassador has confided to the president, unofficially, the terms on which that country will consent to a new trade treaty.

Two Conditions Are Impossible.
In the interview which Baron Speck Von Sternburg had with the president, he mentioned, among other things, two major propositions which he insisted should be considered as conditions precedent to any reciprocal treaty. To neither of these conditions can the United States honorably assent. Germany's first demand is for an advantage in this country over Great Britain. She wants any treaty which may be made so arranged as to favor certain classes of German goods which we have been accustomed to buying from Great Britain. Great Britain is our best customer in the world markets, and obviously we would not be inclined to discriminate against her without just cause.

Runs Against Our Cuban Treaty.
The second German demand is for a larger United States market for German sugar. This market we can not give because of the 20 per cent preferential guaranteed to Cuba under our treaty with that country. That treaty has three years to run, and any proposition to violate it would stir the United States from top to bottom, and result in the defeat of any political party bringing it forward. Germany manufactures about 2,000,000 tons of sugar annually, and of this she exports about 1,225,000 tons. Her capacity to manufacture sugar is only limited by her export market for that article, and naturally she is anxious to secure a better footing in the country which is the largest sugar consumer in the world.

Door To Be Closed In Europe.
The club which Germany holds over us is her reciprocal arrangements, recently concluded with Russia, Austria-Hungary, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Roumania and Serbia, which will go into effect next March. Germany is preparing to try to compel this country to become a part of its commercial pool, or sacrifice a large portion of its export trade on the European continent. All the countries in the pool will impose against the United States a maximum which will practically close their doors against United States goods.

Sad Death of a Brakeman.

A sad feature of his tragic death is the fact that he was soon to have married Miss Grace Murphy, a young woman of Kirkland. Hoyer was 21 years old.

Old Man Run Down by an Auto.

New York, Aug. 8.—Anthony Reiff, a composer, 70 years of age, was run down and fatally hurt in Harlem by an automobile, which careened upon the sidewalk as it turned a corner. The automobilist was arrested, but no one appeared to make complaint and he was set at liberty.

Eddy Case Is Dismissed.

New York, Aug. 8.—The charge of manslaughter pending against the Christian Science reader, John C. Lathrop, of the First Church of Christ, of New York city, since 1902, has been dismissed by County Judge Platt, of White Plains. Lathrop was called to attend 7-year-old Esther Quimby, who was ill with diphtheria and whose life was not saved. Judge Platt declared that the indictment was defective.

There Is Anxiety in India.

Bombay, Aug. 8.—The monsoon this year has, generally speaking, proved disappointing and as a consequence there is much anxiety. In the province of Punjab the crops in the unirrigated lands already are suffering. There has been an abnormal deluge in the province of Gujarat, causing extensive damage and making 10,000 persons homeless.

Leaves a Widow and Two Children.

West Chicago, Ill., Aug. 8.—William Watson, 35 years old, fireman of an engine attached to a Burlington train, dropped dead on his engine as the train was leaving this station for Aurora. Watson lived at Aurora, and leaves a widow and two children. It is thought death was caused by the heat.

Fire Kills Two Persons.

Montevideo, Minn., Aug. 8.—Fire completely wrecked the interior of a two-story building used as a wagon and machine shop. A 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Anna Botten and a 6-year-old daughter of George Revore were suffocated by smoke. Mrs. Botten saved herself and baby by jumping from the second story window.

They Embraced an Opportunity.

Rice Lake, Wis., Aug. 8.—When a servant unlocked the jail doors at Barron the prisoners were found gone. A note in the cell read: "We are sorry to have to do this, but the opportunity presents itself. We are innocent and dislike to stay here until December for nothing. Hoping that we will never meet again, yours truly, Bunco. Bye-bye."

Floating Pool Room Doing Nothing.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 8.—The steamer City of Traverse, the alleged floating pool room, is still tied to the Simmons docks, in this city, and no preparations are being made for a trip to the lake. Captain Stephen Jones is still absent from the boat, and there is no fire under the boilers.

Cash Register Pried Open and Several Pennies Stolen, Together With Some Candy.

The meat market of E. W. Schulze of 1932 Charles street was entered about 10:30 Sunday evening and a quantity of candy and other articles taken.

The miscreants, who are supposed to be boys, as they took candy, gained entrance through a rear window which they broke and removed.

This was very easy as the proprietor at present is visiting in Chicago and Milwaukee and no one was at home at the time.

They pried the cash register open but fortunately only secured a number of Canadian dimes and some pennies, all that had been left in the drawer.

This is the third time that entrance has been made in this way. It is thought that the miscreants live some where in the neighborhood and watch the movements of the family so that they can tell when there is no one at home.

It is said that several boys who are supposed to be guilty are being carefully watched and if more evidence is secured they will be prosecuted.

WHEELMAN RUN DOWN BY HORSE AT BRIDGE CROSSING

Robert Gifford, 1429 Avon street, had a narrow escape from serious or perhaps fatal injury last evening about dusk while crossing the La Crosse river bridge on his way home.

Mr. Gifford was riding north on a bicycle near the bridge and when almost to the bridge the headlight in a car which was going south, blinded him so that he could not see the horse and carriage of George Smith, a Burlington engineer, approaching, with the result that it ran into him, the horse rearing up in the air.

The wheel which was a brand new one was entirely demolished, but Mr. Gifford fortunately escaped with a few painful bruises.

Gund's brewery was founded when Carnegie was a factory hand in Allegheny. The first brew house was hewn from logs—over 50 years ago. The present structure is of steel and stone, electrically equipped throughout—has the largest storage capacity according to its output in America—hence it is always properly ripened and aged. PEERLESS won the Gold Medal at St. Louis because of its surpassing richness, its snappy flavor and its honest purity. It is brewed in an ideal beer making climate amidst surroundings of strict sanitation by the "Gund Natural Process" from "Nature's choicest barley, malt and hops and water bubbling clear from granite rocks." GEORGE M'GINNIS ARRESTED IN DUBUQUE ON OLD CHARGE

La Crosse Man Goes Back to Iowa Town and Starts a New Road House, When Officers Clutch Him Again.

Word has been received here that George McGinnis, formerly a resident of this city, has been arrested at East Dubuque on an old charge of running a roadhouse. It seems that McGinnis was arrested on this charge two years ago and when released on $1,300 bail bond left the country and has since eluded the officers.

It was during a wave of reform which swept over the city of Dubuque that McGinnis and a woman named Alice Wilson were indicted for running roadhouses. The latter was sentenced to a stiff term in the state reformatory, while McGinnis left the city. He came to La Crosse about a year ago and for a time was employed at the "Heileman" as bar-tender, leaving this city suddenly after a sensational assault upon two travel-liners. Later he worked in St. Paul and St. Louis and finally made his way back to Dubuque, presumably thinking that the officers had forgotten all about his case in two years.

WOODMEN HEADQUARTERS MAY BE BROUGHT TO LA CROSSE.

B. F. Keeler, the newly elected state deputy of the Modern Woodmen, left yesterday for Milwaukee, where he is about to undertake the colossal task of redistricting the entire state. The removal of the state deputy from Milwaukee and the transfer of all the principal business to Mr. Keeler will probably mean that the head offices will hereafter be in La Crosse. It is also probable that some of the Woodmen salaried appointments which have heretofore been held in Milwaukee will come to the western part of the state.

Another result of the readjustment of Wisconsin business of the order is the transfer of the Wisconsin Woodmen from the old management consisting of F. O. Howlett, C. D. Marks and T. W. Newman, to O. F. Dwight and W. F. Sell, who will change the policy of the paper considerably.

LAST BRAIL OF LOGS FROM BLACK RIVER SCALED.

The last brail of logs that will ever be taken out of Black river for Mississippi river mills was scaled Saturday by W. H. Tilton and E. C. Erickson. The brail is now tied up below Trow's sawmill awaiting the arrival of the steamer Kit Carson which will tow it to the Standard Lumber company's mill at Dubuque.

The scaling of this brail, which consists of 1200 logs, marks the end of the logging industry on Black river for outside mills. About all the logs that will be brought down the stream henceforth will be resurrected pieces taken from the river bottom and shoes, and these will all be saved up in Trow's mill and other mills of smaller capacity that are erected temporarily.

It is further alleged that Trainer made an offer of $80 to Sheriff Lins to allow him to escape after his arrest in Winona three weeks ago and seemed prepared to take desperate steps to get out of the clutches of the law.

THE SPECTATOR.

City Comptroller C. H. Connor reports a considerable increase in the amount of bridge receipts lately, as compared with the same months in other years. This indicates that more Minnesota farmers are coming to the city to get their supplies than ever before. Bridge tenders say farmers are coming from greater distances to market their produce in this city than ever before, and that this added patronage alone accounts for their grain and other produce here than they do in the markets nearest their homes, but they find that whenever they want merchandise in any quantity it pays to come where they can take advantage of wholesale prices minus the freight charges which they have to pay if this merchandise is purchased from the retailers in their home towns supplied by La Crosse jobbers and wholesalers.

Local administration men are deeply interested in the report that at the conference of La Follette men to be held in Milwaukee during the week of the state fair the name of Asst. Dist. Attorney Backus will be proposed for state treasurer upon the administration slate. At conferences of La Follette men held recently the ambition of Mr. Backus to be the administration candidate for state treasurer has been freely discussed and it is said that he has stated his desire for the office. Last year Mr. Backus was placed in nomination for the office of state treasurer by the republican state central committee when that body deposed J. J. Kempf from the nomination. Later, however, the courts ordered the reinstatement of Mr. Kempf. Thereupon Mr. Backus decided not to run as an independent candidate and withdrew. Mr. Backus is well known in state politics having first tendered them as a clerk in the office of the labor commissioner. Later he was appointed chief factory inspector, which office he resigned to accept an appointment as second assistant district attorney of Milwaukee county. La Crosse La Follette men are wondering where Assemblyman Henry Johnson of Oconto and some others who have aspirations for this office are going to get off.

WHAT THE TRIBUNE DARE DO.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 7, 1905.

Editor Tribune:

Some days ago you had an editorial advising the creating of a commission to have in charge the regulating of electric light companies. It sounded well, and the purpose is good. In fact, without such a commission any good that may come from the establishment of a competing company will not be apt to last.

Some time has elapsed since that editorial appeared, and you seem to have forgotten it. In discussing the matter Sunday, one of a party of gentlemen of whom I was one, said that you had probably got instructions from The Wisconsin Light & Power company to "shut up."

What would you do, if this company told you not to agitate a commission? Why do you thus take up the cudgel to have the child you have created "regulated?"

CYNIC.

On reading the above communication, to which the author did not have the grace to sign his own name, we were in mind to call up the Wisconsin Light & Power company and ask whether it has objections to a commission. On second thought, we concluded that it is none of the company's business.

We have no knowledge of any objections by the Wisconsin Light & Power company to fair regulation. A creature of the public, it must expect public discipline. We do not know positively that it would welcome a commission, but in the absence of any evidence that any one of its members was ever connected with a shady transaction or ever sought more than value, received for services rendered, we are going to presume that it proposes to play fair with its patrons and that, therefore, it will be willing to have its business dealings and its relations with the people come under the scrutiny of intelligent men charged with the duty of safeguarding the public. The Edison Light & Power company, too, may not object. It doesn't matter much whether it does or not; it doesn't matter much whether either or both companies object. All that matters much is what is best for the interests of the whole community, and for that we are going to work, regardless of any company.

"Cynic" smartly wants to know whether we "dare" proceed in a matter affecting the business of the company we have "created," without the advice of that company. We do dare; we have not asked any company whether it wants a light and power commission, but we are going to work for one until we get it, if the law permits. And if it don't, we will work for a law authorizing such a commission.

We say this because we believe that all public service corporations, created by the people, should be subject to regulation by the people; because, under existing conditions, there is and can be no intelligent regulation of these companies; because the commission here suggested affords the only logical procedure that has ever been suggested, to our knowledge. The merchants of La Crosse, the city's light and power users, own this paper. For themselves and the public that trades with them they have created The Tribune as a barrier between the public-service people and the consumers of the products or franchised companies. The Tribune knows no duty to anyone but the whole people of this thriving city.

BE DECENTLY FAIR.

We have no apologies to offer for anyone in any way involved in this utterly nasty Powell-Phillippi affair.

However, we advise those who are expressing opinions, not to lose sight of one evil in efforts to prosecute another. Civilization cannot condone the taking of a married woman into low resorts and dissolute society, cloak on or cloak off, for any purpose whatever. If Frank Powell was recreant to his duties as a husband, there is not therein excuse for the Lust that beguiles suffering womanhood with the "sympathy racket." He who bawls the names of his women "friends" out from the witness stand, is no more deserving of sympathy than he who loses his own home in lust of social adventure.

A demand for the resignation of Frank Powell is made by a republican organ. It is suspected that politics is behind it. This demand may properly be made later on, but it cannot be made before the condemnation of the official. If it has taken us until now to find Powell unworthy of public office, on charges made by the confessed consort of Powell's wife, we may as well bide the short time that will elapse until the evidence is in. To attack him now is to convict on the mere allegation of a hostile party, when we are almost within earshot of unprejudiced evidence. Truly the acts of neither can be sanctioned by society or law. It is a down-grade ticket on Hell's speedway for all concerned. But to condemn one and condone the other is an injustice which only "political expedience" or willful prejudice dare father.

"It will all come out in the wash." In the meantime, "accident" having made Frank Powell again city engineer when all the facts concerning this unhappy incident were known, and Powell having been unquestionably competent to fulfill his public duties, lets have the smudge continued until every detail of this episode is under the full glare of publicity. Then do not stint the stinger either for the public official or the private citizen. For a moral wrong perpetrated by a public official is no worse than the same wrong done by an individual in private life. And remember, this thing is of too general importance to the decency of this community to justify "political expedience."

QUIPPS & CRANKS & WANTON WILES

'Tis not less true because we make it rhyme;

And we've in mind an application

Altho' it may displease some democrat.

'Tis warning fair, so learn this

"Procrastination is the thief of

PROPHETS WITHOUT HONOR.

"Spare Moments" is a neat little magazine published in Rochester, New York. In picking up the August number and turning to the front-piece, the writer's attention was caught by a series of photographs that adorned it, setting off an article entitled "Implanting The Law," by "Bat" Master-son. The photographs were those of William F. Cody, (Buffalo Bill), J. B. Hickok (Wild Bill), Drs. Frank, George and Will Powell (White Beaver, Night Hawk and Broncho Bill respectively), G. W. Little (Pawnee Bill), and a half dozen more of the celebrated "heroes of the plains."

Master-son was formerly sheriff of Dodge City, Kansas, in its palmy days of carnage when it boasted more bad men and murders to the square inch than any "Hell's Half Acre" in the frontier. Master-son is now a United States marshal in New York, his appointment to that position emphasizing the fact that outlawry has been transplanted from the wilds of the "border" to the wildernesses of our great cities; he boasts eighteen notches in his knife handle (meaning he has killed that number of men), and he was one of the most striking figures in the precarious life of the west when a few daring men were engaged in forcing civilization down the throats of as reckless a lot of human fiends as ever tried the patience of an enlightened nation. Speaking of his western experiences, Master-son says:

"There is a generation approaching its zenith in this country today that has witnessed, yes, taken part in one of the greatest events in history. I refer to the settlement and civilization of the Great West."

"It was the drunkard and the thief that gave us peace officers of the plains our troubles. * * * The real gambler * * * never gave the sheriff any trouble. The 'bad man' did more toward implanting the law and making a soft couch for civilization in the western country than any other, in fact, than all other forces combined. Men that are characteristic of the type that gave this great westland to the world are Buffalo Bill, Buckskin Jack, White Beaver, Captain Jack Crawford, Night Hawk, Wild Bill, Broncho Bill, Kit Carson. * * * These are representative 'bad men,' bad for the law breaker, the sluggart, the coward, the braggart—in fact, negative to any and all the influences that encouraged moral decay where moral growth was courted. * * * Consider the character of some of these paradoxical bad men. There is White Beaver, whose name is Dr. Frank Powell; he is a practicing physician today; he did his work on the plains, and did it well. * * *

There follows a series of incidents illustrating the traits of the various men mentioned. It is a long article, too long to publish here, but it throws true light on a class of citizens whose real worth and services to this country have been discolored by the literary felon who gives birth to the yellow backed budget of blood and thunder at 10 cents per.

Some people say that one of the guys is spluttering his own raiment wit the mud he is throwing; and some of the people say the other guy is getting his, anyway. And one of the guys says he is as muddy as he can get, and he wants the other guy to have his share, which is a natural ambition when both contributed to the mud puddle. After all, tho' it is not elevating, it may be just as well to have the mud slinging all done at one time, and after it is over the court of Public Opinion will have before it the evidence necessary to the rendering of a suitable verdict.

The greatest day in August, in nineteen-hundred-five, Will be the 10th of August, as sure as you're alive.

In making this prediction in this silly little poem,

We've in mind the happy moment when the team comes home.

A wealthy man, popular, intelligent, intending to be fair—but belonging to the "upper tens," said that The Tribune was not as clean as it should be. His friend, equally well-to-do, but inclined to regard all people who, toil with their hands as men of flesh and souls, asked wherein the other found the paper "unclean."

The man of large affairs could not recall.

"Is it less clean than papers that print advertisements for filthy diseases and unnatural practices," asked the other. And again the man of opulence did not know wherein the Tribune was "unclean."

The fact is that this gentleman is an associate of those certain people who hate The Tribune because it interfered with their plans to "skin" the people of this city on light and power. He is educated by his daily mingling with them to regard this paper as "unclean." Placed upon the witness stand, he could not testify to any particular "filth" in it. Had he made his charge against The Leader-Press, he would not have been so confused, for he could have cited advertisements that daily appear in that sheet that are unfit for women and children to read, and disgusting to good men; he could have cited an editorial in which people were called "cowpunchers" and "shitpokes," and talk of "carved bowls" and "dragging entrails" was indulged in.

You never find anything of this nasty nature in The Tribune.

CAN'T KITTY COME TO BED?

From Dreamland, in the morning now, I heard a voice that said
In wistful accents, "Please, papa,
Can't kitty come to bed?"

Beside me, in her cot, there lay
A miss with flaxen hair,
And eyes of blue; and a look I knew
From her mother's eyes, was there.

And from the window ledge without Came, "mew," and a furry head
Peeped in and purred, and I thought I heard,
"Can't kitty come to bed?"

Then I raised the window, and let puss in,
And into the cot she sprang,
And she snuggled up in our baby's arms,
And her purring joy she sung.

And together they slept their beauty sleep—
Playmates of babyland,—
One little paw lay trustingly
In one little baby hand.

A hard man, bruised by the world,
was I,
And My Strength was the God I knew;
But I said a prayer, in the morning
there,
To the God of the Sky and Dew.

And I asked that ever, in Life's hard road,
My child might a friendship know,
Unswerving as that of her pussy-cat,
As faithful in weal and woe.

Then the birds sang glad in the trees without:
"Our God is her friend," they said,
And my hot soul knew that the birds
sang true.

And—papa went back to bed.

JUST LIFE

AS TO HIS NAME.

In proof that vaudeville artists do not overdo the length of amusing conversations, W. F. Gallagher offers the following as having occurred within his hearing in a department store: It seems that a gentleman, whose name was Jepson, had just made a purchase which he desired the clerk to send to his residence.

"What is the name?"
"Chipson?"
"No, Jepson."
"Jepson."
"That's it. You have it. Six eighty-two Grand street."

"Your first name; initial please."

"Oh, K."

"Excuse me, it isn't O. K. You did not understand me. I said Oh."

"O. Jepson."

"No. Rub out the O, and let the K stand."

The clerk looked annoyed, and then said with some asperity: "Will you please give me your initial again?"

"I said K."

"I beg your pardon; you said O. K. Perhaps you had better write it yourself."

"I said O—"

"Just now you said K."

"Allow me to finish what I started to say. I said Oh, because I did not understand what you were asking me. I did not mean that it was my initial. My name is Kerby Jepson."

"Oh."

"No, not O, but K. Here give me the pencil and I will write it down for you myself. There I guess it is O. K. now."

WHAT HE'D READ.

The other day, as the story goes, an Irishman appeared in circuit court to take out his naturalization papers. He was one of those typical Irishmen.

Among other things the judge asked him:

"Have you read the constitution?"

"Naw Sor!"

"Have you read the declaration of independence?"

"O' hov not."

"Well, what have you read?" asked His Honor with some irritation.

"O' hov red hair on me neck, sor."

A Hoodoo is rampant in La Crosse on Saturday.

Statistics prove it is the day of frosts, droughts, crimes, etc.

A week ago last Saturday the Press Club played under a Hoodoo, and could not understand it. Last Saturday the "J. S." played under a Hoodoo. Records of the weather bureau show that most all of the killing frosts have occurred on Saturday. So it has been suggested that the Hoodoo has jumped a cog and that Friday shall no longer be considered the "Jonah."

William Allen White, of the Emporia (Kas.) Gazette, says Lawson and Jerome taught the west little, and that the leaders of the "dissidence of dissent" stay east of the Alleghenies. Lawson and Jerome didn't seem able to teach Bill that the wealth of the west is being shipped over the mountains and dumped at the feet of these leaders about as fast as their railroads can carry it.

THOSE "ICE CREAM PARTIES."

We received the following over the initials "C. C. B." from the north side, though the breweries have made no particular report of increased business:

To the Editor:

"Ice cream parties seem to be the fad on the north side these warm evenings. So much so that some parents forget the looks of their own children, as I noticed a man pick up a little boy and carried home (notwithstanding an objection) but when he found that he had carted some one else's boy and the mob he had with him, he was so disgusted that he got the can and bought 5 cents' worth of beer. Yours truly,

"C. C. B.—"

Well, perhaps there is no provision in the charter for the purchase of sandwiches.

BRIDGE MEN OF COUNTRY ARE ON A BIG STRIKE

BARS ARE UP AGAINST ONE COMPANY FROM COAST TO COAST

Subletting of a Con- tract Cause of the Trouble

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—The Plain Dealer says: "Orders were issued Monday afternoon from the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers
by Secretary J. J. McNamara for a general strike against the American Bridge company from Maine to California. 'It is estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 bridge and structural workers will quit work. Bridge work will be tied up in many parts of the country, and a number of big building projects will be delayed. The strike of the iron workers when it comes will effect thousands in the building industry."

Trouble Over a Sub-Contract.

"The following is a copy of the order which was sent out to ninety locals of the union in the United States and Canada by Secretary McNamara
of the executive board: 'The executive board orders a general strike against the American Bridge company to take effect Wednesday, Aug. 3.
Order includes all jobs where American Bridge company has first contract for erection. The general strike, according to Secretary McNamara, was the outcome of trouble between the union and the American Bridge company over the sub-letting of a contract to a Boston concern which the union claims is unfair.'

Had a Wrong Impression.

"A 3,000-ton contract for bridge work was let to the American Bridge company by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad under the impression that the company would employ union bridge and structural iron workers. It was said that the company refused to consider the New Haven organization of bridge and structural iron workers, and sub-let the work to the Boston concern." No satisfactory adjustment was made and the strike results, and will be handled from the Cleveland headquarters.

STRIKE OF THE TELEGRAPHERS

No Prospect of Settlement and Both Sides
Still Claiming the Victory.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 8.—With both sides claiming that victory is certain for them the labor war between the telegraphers of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads, started its second week with no immediate prospect of settlement. So far there has been no violence reported on the part of the men, and the railroads have had no serious accidents
in the running of trains.

President Perham, of the telegraphers' union, said: "Everything favors us in this fight against the railroads.
We have reports from every division of the entire two systems and there is not a bad piece of news anywhere."
General Manager Horn, of the Northern Pacific, issued a strike statement in which he said: "Eighty-five per cent of the agents' positions have been filled and 70 per cent of the telegraphers' positions have been filled."

THE FRENCH HAVE A RATH-ER WISE ADAGE: "CAPON

ARIES ARE PAID TO THOSE WHO EARN AND DEMAND
THEM—NOT MERELY TO THOSE WHO EARN THEM.

PRINCE IN CHARGE OF SWEDEN AGAIN

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 8.—King
Oscar is leaving the capital in search of quiet and rest, and Crown Prince Gustave will again be appointed regent. The king has issued the following proclamation: "As, on the advice of my doctors, I must for some time seek quiet, fresh air and the baths in order once more, with God's help, to find health and strength after the strenuous time so trying to body and mind through which I have passed in consequence of the trials to which I have been subjected in the last few months, I wish before handing over the reins of government to my son,
the crown prince, and before leaving the capital, to renew the thanks to the Swedish people which I have previously expressed."

"I cannot sufficiently emphasize how
dear to me the many proofs of love and sympathy which I have received from many directions have been, and how great a consolation they have been to me for the loss of a people whom I wished with all my heart to unite with my Swedish people."

Case Hinges on Word "Begin"

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 8.—The appellate court has affirmed the decision of the Kankakee county circuit court in the case against Dr. Langdon on the charge of practicing medicine without a license, deciding in favor of the doctor. State's Attorney Miller, who has been pushing the case, declares that the state will take the case up to the supreme court. Dr. Langdon declares that he was practicing in this state before the act was passed, in 1899, and therefore was not amenable.

The case hinged around the word
"begin." The act reads that physicians cannot "begin" practicing medicine without first obtaining a license. The appellate court holds that the law does not apply to doctors who practiced before the act became a law and the decision was accordingly handed down in favor of the defendant. The case will affect many physicians in the state, and considerable interest has been taken in the outcome.

DE WITTE REACHES PORTSMOUTH

Boston, Mass., Aug. 8.—At 9:30 p.
m. M. de Witte, who had been here since Sunday, was driven to the North station, where he boarded a private car attached to the regular train, which left for Portsmouth at 9:45. Before the train left about 100 former residents of Russia, many of them Hebrews, assembled near M. de Witte's car and cheered him. The envoy appeared on the rear platform and spoke in Russian in a conversational way for several minutes.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—The eve of the opening of the all-important negotiations at Portsmouth sees a belief
here in the possibility of peace.

Lidlapudze, Manchuria, Aug. 8.—It is rumored among the Chinese that Field Marshal Oyama declared at Changtufu that the war would soon be over, and that the Chinese would soon be able to devote themselves to agricultural pursuits.

PRINCE ARRESTED AS A SPY

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Prince Friedrich
Henry, eldest son of Prince Albrecht of Prussia, was arrested as a spy by the guards at the East Battery, in Swineuende Pomerania. The prince was in ordinary dress and was photographing the environs of the fort. When apprehended he said he was Prince Friedrich Henry, but the guards told him they were "not to be fooled." The prince went quietly with one of the guards to the commandant of the fort, who recognized him and ordered his release.

The sentries have been especially alert because of the arrest last week of an Austrian accused of spying. The Austrian was photographing with a strong camera parts of the fortress from a neighboring lighthouse.

ZIEGLER EXPEDITION IS PROBABLY LOST

Baltimore, Aug. 8.—The Baltimore
News has received the following cablegram from Dr. Oliver L. Fassig, of the Ziegler relief expedition:
Shannon Island, via Edinburgh, Aug.
7, 1905.—No members of Ziegler expedition Shannon Island July 21. Much ice North Atlantic. Reach New York 20th.

Dr. Fassig, who is an official of the government weather bureau, is the scientist of the relief expedition which sailed from Sanderfjord, Norway, May 17 on the Magdalena for Shannon island, on the east coast of Greenland,
in the hope that members of the Zeigler expedition, which sailed for the Arctic regions from Norway in July, 1903, under command of Anthony Fiala, of Brooklyn, might be found there. It is understood here that the Magdalena, having failed in its purpose, will return to Norway.

Trouble Over a Law

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 8.—The inhabitants of the small incorporated towns
in this county, as well as Treasurer Brown, of the city of Wabash, are very much interested in a new construction placed on the law which in cities and towns defines the duties of the city treasurers and town treasurers. In cities of the fifth class it was the design to have the city treasurer elective and to continue as the collector of the taxes. Through the peculiar wording of the statute, however, it appears that there is a question concerning the collection of fifth-class cities and town taxes and several local attorneys say that the city and town treasurers have nothing to do with the city and town taxes save to disburse them on warrants.

The law apparently makes it the duty of the county treasurer to collect the municipal taxes and turn them over to the city and town treasurers, who remain the custodians until they are disbursed in the regular payment of obligations. The effect of placing this construction on the law is to compel the taxpayers of the small cities and towns of the state to go to the county seats to pay their local taxes and they are denouncing at the necessity of doing so.

EXECUTION TAKEN AGAINST STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Probably Rockefeller is shaking in his boots today. Undersheriff Scott yesterday swooped down upon the local offices of the oil monopoly and served an execution for $8.31, the costs involved in a legal action of the Standard Oil Co. against Sigurd Hanson, the wall paper man, in which the company sought to recover the purchase price of two barrels of oil. The case was about settled, but the Standard Oil company failed to pay $8.31 costs and attorney fees still due. As a consequence Attorney A. E. Bleckman, Jr., handling Hanson's case had the execution served upon the company.

Under Southern Skies Bigger Success Than Ever

When Lottie Blair Parker wrote "Way Down East," managers predicted a great future for her, but most of the "wise ones" thought Mrs. Parker produced all that she possessed and would never equal this play. Mrs. Parker, who is a very shrewd business woman, thought of that old maxim,

"say nothing but saw wood." She sawed, and sawed, and when finished turned out "Under Southern Skies" which duplicated the success of her former effort, and is considered by many, a bigger success. Mrs. Parker laughed at the prophets who said she "produced all she possessed" in her first big success. At La Crosse theater, matinee and night, Aug. 12th. Night prices, 25 to $1.00. FOUND DEAD AT FOOT OF LEDGE

John Fiedler, a workman in the stone quarry at Fountain City, was found dead at the bottom of the ledge.

No person saw him fall, but the supposition is that he mistook his path or made a misstep and was plunged down the precipice. His skull was crushed and death must have been instantaneous. He was afflicted with poor eyesight, and when he completed his work and started for home ahead of the remainder of the workmen he was warned to wait and accompany the others. He had been affected by the heat during the day and was feeling ill which circumstances would have made it desirable for him to have heeded the advice of his com-

FREEPORT GETS A NEW MANAGER TO REGAIN PLACE

Word received here from Freeport is to the effect that there is to be a general shake-up in the Freeport league team, which went from the top to fourth place in a few weeks. The new manager will take hold in a day or two and add new men to the team.

HOBBO CAMP AT RIVER JUNCT.

Nearly 100 hoboes have been in camp at River Junction during the past 48 hours. Not all of them are genuine knights of the road, some being headed for the western harvest fields and waiting at the Junction for an opportunity to steal a ride westward. Trainmen report considerable trouble at the junction during the past few days, their instructions being to keep the boxcar travelers off their trains if possible. The day trains are not bothered much, but at night the tramps swarm into the empties and onto the bumpers and ride until thrown off when they patiently camp out along the line and wait for the next opportunity.

Returns From Pleasant Eastern Trip.

Back from an "Old Home Week" in his native Granby, Mass., Mr. W. R. Montague dropped into The Tribune office yesterday light hearted and light footed as a boy.

Granby is one of those typical "down east" towns, where everybody knows everybody and the neighbors who left fifty years ago are remembered and honored as in days of yore. "Down East" is a land by itself," said Mr. Montague. "It is just a little different than any place on earth, and to a Yankee like me, it is a little bit better than any place on earth, to visit."

Mr. Montague was invited, as one of the lost residents. He says he could not imagine the price that would have induced him to forego the pleasure. He spent two weeks in the east. While there he met Timothy Potter, a large lumberman, a nephew of the late William E. Potter, of La Crosse.

An Incandescent Electric Lamp

Gives out one-eighth of the heat of an equivalent gas jet, while a Neruse Lamp, on account of its higher efficiency, produces but one-twentieth as much heat as does a gas jet to produce the same amount of light.

A gas jet burning but two feet of gas an hour raises the temperature of a room ten feet square, with nine foot ceiling, 16 degrees in an hour, even though three-quarters of the heat is lost in radiation, and does not go to heat the air in the room.
